EVERYBODY SWINGS INTO THE PARADE

John W. Davis of West Virginia and New York was nominated for the presidency by the Democratic convention here this afternoon.

His nomination, accomplished on the 103rd ballot, ended the most extended deadlock that ever existed in any major political convention. It came only four ballots after the withdrawal of the deadlocking pair, McAdoo and Smith. The West Virginian was really challenged seriously by but one candidate following the McAdoo-Smith retirement—Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama. They had a short brush for a few ballots but the great secondary strength that the West Virginian has always had in the convention came to the surface rapidly when called for and Underwood was easily defeated.

The band organ for Davis started with the 103rd ballot. As the roll call proceeded, the line of states and the Davis strength began to become more and more apparent, state after state fell into line, until at the end he had a majority—the first time in 103 ballots that any candidate ever had crossed the majority line.

From that point the convention became a procession of state chairmen seeking to change votes that had been cast against the West Virginian.

George E. Brennan, the Illinois boss, sat with a pencil and paper as the roll call proceeded. He had thrown the old Smith following to Underwood for three ballots—for the support Underwood had given the anti-klan in the convention.

Brennan said his allies had voted for Underwood on these ballots while the old McAdoo, forced, following the natural line of division, produced by more than two weeks of hatred and bitterness, went ahead and piled up a huge total for Davis.

Brennan only smiled, he had been favorable to Davis all the time, and just as soon as the majority point was reached, Brennan gave the signal himself. He rose and belittled over the heads of a dozen state chairmen who were seeking to change their votes. "Illinois wants to change her vote."

He got the recognition he demanded at last and cast Illinois' 53 votes for Davis.

California followed. Then Roosevelt, the Smith manager of the Governor Smith, raised himself on his crippled legs and changed New York's vote so as to give 60 for Davis.

Governor Field of Kentucky, Senator Swanson of Virginia, Gov. Morris of North Carolina, and Ed H. Moore of Ohio, then successively got the recognition of the chair and changed the votes of their states.

While this was going on, the chairmen of the Iowa delegation was yelling for recognition. He finally got it and withdrew the name of Meredith—head of some of the changes—and quite in sufficient time to hop on the band wagon.

Tom Taggart of Indiana then moved

MALONE DEMANDS
THAT BRYAN GET
OUT OF THE PARTY

New York, July 9 (INS.)—Dudley Field Malone, former collector of the port in New York City, today made public a copy of a letter he had sent William Jennings Bryan in which he accused the Democratic party by injecting the religious issue into the fight for the Presidential nomination Malone declared the time had come when Bryan should retire from activity in the Democratic party.

that the nomination of Davis be made by acclamation.

Amid an inferno of noise, yells and applause, Chairman Walsh put the question. It was answered by a thunderous "aye" that made the bunting around the old garden quiver with the gust.

The parade of state standards followed almost immediately.

West Virginia led off—Davis' home folks. They had voted blithely and confidently for Davis from the start, although McAdoo had succeeded in raiding them for a delegate at critical times at the height of one of his drives.

Louisiana followed. They too had been sticking to Davis since way back yonder when this convention started. Around and around the Garden the speaker's platform where Senator Walsh stood smiling down on them many shouted:

"And now for you for Vice President."

The nomination of Davis—after eight deadlocked hot and bitter days—was greeted with a yell of relief that must have penetrated to the Bronx, or to the Battery where John W. Davis has his office. McAdoo and Smith men at sword's points and fist-cuffs for three weeks got together under the Davis banner and forgot it—at least temporarily.

Everybody was happy for the first time in three weeks, or nearly everybody, at least.

Wm. J. Bryan wasn't very happy but said he "would support the ticket."

Mr. Davis had not been on his "white list" of candidates which he presented to the convention last week in an impassioned speech.

In his articles Bryan has been calling Mr. Davis "J. P. Morgan's lawyer."

In the few ballots that preceded Davis' selection, the Commoner got busy on the floor trying to stonewall. He might, as well have tried to stonewall Niagara.

The home hungry delegates, inspired by the thought of agreement at last, were Davis-bound and they couldn't be headed.

F. D. Roosevelt, Smith's manager, was happy.

"Thank God," he said, "we got a good man at last and can go home happy."

Ex-Governor McCorkle of West Virginia was recognized after the parade and cheering had been in progress for 15 minutes.

He was escorted to the platform amid applause and said: "You have put your standard in worthy hands."

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 9.—John W. Davis, of West Virginia, jumped into the lead in the contest for the Democratic Presidential nomination today on the first ballot taken following the retirement of McAdoo and Smith.

The West Virginian polled more than 300 votes on the initial ballot—the 101st of the convention—and was followed in second place by Sen. Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, who inherited most of the Smith strength because of the strong stand the Alabamian took against the klan.

The McAdoo states went heavily to Davis, a few for E. T. Meredith, of Iowa, and a few to Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana.

The Brennan-Smith forces decided to "get behind Underwood and give him a ride" in return for his help in the klan fight. The first ballot today was in the nature of a test or trial heat and Davis stood out head and shoulders above the field, despite the eastern backing of Underwood.

The decision to give Underwood "a ride" was issued at a conference of Smith managers held just as the convention was getting under way.

Gov. Smith issued definite notice of this conference that under no circumstances would he accept the vice presidency.

Speaking to newspaper correspondents, Smith said that he was finally

CALVIN COOLIDGE, JR., WILL TONIGHT
RETURN TO SCENES OF HIS CHILDHOOD,
THERE TO DWELL ETERNALLY IN SLEEPBy HARRY WARD
N. S. Staff Correspondent

Washington, July 9.—With simple ceremonies no different than those which would take place in any other American home, except for the presence of scores of government officials, and the diplomatic representatives of foreign nations, the President and Mrs. Coolidge this evening poured out the grief of their hearts at the bier of their youngest son, Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

In the historic, high-ceilinged east room of the White House, heavy with the scent of lovely blossoms expressive of the sympathy of America and the world for this father and mother in their bereavement, the funeral service took place at four o'clock.

All of the invited guests were present, standing with bowed heads, when Mrs. Coolidge, veiled and weeping softly, entered, leaning heavily on the arm of her husband. The President looked straight ahead, his lips tight, his face drawn, striving to conceal the pain that he has suffered since the loss of his boy. Behind came their son, John, and the military and naval aides, attached to the Executive Mansion.

Washington, July 9.—In the flower-filled East Room of the White House, watched over by his sailor chums from the Mayflower, Calvin Coolidge, Jr., slept for the last time today.

Tonight at 9 o'clock the 16-year-old son of the President, whose death has saddened the national capital, and called forth deep grief and sympathy from the whole nation, will begin the long journey first to the scenes of his childhood at Northampton, Mass., and then to the little hillside cemetery among the rugged Vermont hills where he will sleep forever among his ancestors.

Simple funeral services will be held at the White House at four o'clock this afternoon. There will be no sermon, in keeping with the desire of the President and Mrs. Coolidge to avoid all formal or official ceremonies.

A short prayer will be offered by the Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Washington, followed by the singing of one of the boy's favorite hymns.

and reading of the Congressional funeral ritual.

Intimate friends of the presidential family, members of the cabinet, senators and congressmen and members of the First Congregational Church of Washington, who are to be present at the hour of the funeral and informed that "should attendance cause them no inconvenience the President would be deeply honored." Only three members of the cabinet are in the city—Secretary of War Weeks, who has assisted the President in making the funeral arrangements, Secretary of the Interior Work, and Postmaster General New. Secretary of State Hughes, who is in New York, and Secretary of Labor Davis, who is in Chicago, are expected to join the funeral party in Northampton tomorrow morning. Among the official guests will be 12 ranking officers of both the army and navy and the chiefs of the independent government establishments at Washington.

Because of the general expressions of sympathy throughout the capital, the President will permit the public to gather, if they desire, in the north grounds of the executive mansion facing on Pennsylvania avenue. Only invited guests, however, will be admitted to the White House and the body will not formally enter the state, although intimate friends will be permitted to pay their last respects.

The ceremonies at the White House this afternoon are not expected to consume more than an hour. Between five and eight o'clock, arrangements will be made for the train journey to Northampton. The Presidential funeral party will leave the capital at 9 p. m. via the Pennsylvania railroad and is due in Northampton about 9 o'clock in the morning.

Besides the President and Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, the party will include such members of the cabinet as desire to accompany the body. J. Butler Wright, the acting Secretary of State; Col. C. O. Sherrill, the President's chief military aide; Captain Adolphus Andrews, the chief naval aide; Commander Joel T. Boone and Major James F. Coughlin, the White House physicians who directed the fight to save young Calvin's life; and the Rev. Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, the President's pastor. Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns, of Boston, intimate friends of the Coolidge family; C. Bascom Slemm, the White House secretary, and Edward B. Clark, the

Able Banker Speak And
Accept Fine Club Emblem

A record hot weather attendance of the Commercial Club met with Minehost Jordan on Monday evening to hear the reports of the various committees, who had been assigned tasks from the previous meeting.

The float committee reported that they HAD a float in the parade but DID NOT win a prize. Committee discharged without trial. The publicity committee reported that the call for the Lakes-to-Sea Highway fold-ers continued to be heavy as the result of publicity stories sent to the newspapers in the neighboring states.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. William H. Hutt, Deputy Governor of the Third District Federal Reserve Bank, of Philadelphia. Mr. Hutt gave a very interesting history of our currency system from its inception during colonial times down to the present, comparing its workings with the systems of other countries especially with the Bank of England system which has been taken as a basis of all national currency systems the world over.

The beautiful club emblem, a black walnut plaque lettered in gold with the words, "Clearfield Commercial Club" was unveiled and accepted by the club with thanks to Commercialite Shaw for the work he has done on the emblem.

Club guests from out of town were Messrs A. E. Green and John D. Myers, of Philadelphia, who accompanied Mr. Hutt on his trip to talk to the club. Both of these gentlemen are connected with the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia.

Hughes In Line For The Presidency Of American
Bar Association In 1925

Philadelphia, July 9.—Charles Evans Hughes, Secretary of State, will probably be the unanimous choice of delegates to the American Bar Association as their president for the coming year when the election is held at the Academy of Music here tomorrow.

Mr. Hughes was given a great reception last night when he stepped on the platform during the session of the Bar Association meeting. He will lead the delegation from the United States on its trip to England where courts and government systems will be studied closely this fall.

He was absent from today's session of the convention and will probably not return tomorrow for the election because of the funeral services for Calvin Coolidge, Jr., which he expected to attend.

Comp'y Turns Fine Trick
In Hauling Picnickers

Another of those so-called heartless corporations proves itself to have something as big as a heart and performing the same functions. This time it is the Edwards Motor Transit Company of Curwensville, which, when it heard the Salvation Army intended to picnic at the Pee Wee's Nest tomorrow, immediately telephoned to Captain Watson to tell him they would furnish transportation for all and everything.

The Captain was indeed a happily surprised man and those who take in the picnic are now assured of a comfortable ride to Curwensville's popular park in rain-proof, easy riding buses.

The first bus will leave the Salvation Army hall at 9 o'clock. Be there on time if you are going. The last one will leave at 9:30. Be sure to be there before that time.

Secretary Wilbur Gives
Wholesome Americanism
Advice To Endevors

Pittsburgh, July 9. (INS.)—"The ballot is your sword with which to fight evil," was the advice Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur gave more than 12,000 delegates to the 11th biennial Pennsylvania State Christian Endeavor convention, last night at Forbes Field, when he spoke on "Preparedness."

Mr. Wilbur declared that the ballot "so freely handed you at the polling place is not a mere scrap of paper. It has been paid for by the blood, the prayers, the tears and agony of countless millions of every age, and by the grit and determination of our grandfathers, who more than once braved the wrath of a hostile world, and prayerbook in hand, founded the freest government on earth."

The navy head lauded the dry law, declaring that the Eighteenth Amendment freed the people "from poverty and disease and gave the boys a chance to grow up."

Woman suffrage, Secretary Wilbur declared, did away with boss rule and doubled "our electorate."

Mr. Wilbur left last night after his address on account of the death of Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

FOURTEEN ARRESTED
IN ARDMORE CRIME;
POLICE SAY THEY HAVE CONFESSION

Ardmore, July 9. (INS.)—Fourteen men were under arrest today, charged with inciting to riot, assault and battery, unlawful assembly and attempted murder in connection with two alleged Ku Klux Klan demonstrations here and in Upper Darby county in which two policemen were shot. All have confessed, according to police, and five of those held were members of the suburban police force.

The affair at Ardmore was started by the burning of a cross which caused an alarm to be turned in by persons who saw the blaze. Francis X. Roy and Albert Miller, Lower Merion township policemen, answered the call and when they saw two men walking away from the cross they demanded that they halt. Instead they opened fire, wounding both policemen.

In Upper Darby township one policeman and nine of his friends dressed as klansmen marched on a negro camp meeting which was followed by an exchange of shots, none being seriously hurt.

Those held in connection with the Ardmore trouble are Latorine McCourry, 36 years old; Joseph Boyd, 20; Robert Stewart, 35; and Wm. R. Baker, 30. Harry Trout was the policeman arrested in the other affair.

HAD BIG GATHERING

Several hundred members of the Ku Klux Klan gathered in a field on the farm of Ed T. Henry at Susquehanna Bridge, just below Curwensville borough last evening and held a "kon-klave" of some kind. There were fifty or more cars from the Luthersburg-DuBois country and about an equal number which traveled from and to the Clearfield section.

Several lights were erected about the field and hooded and robed figures were quite busy about the place until hostilities were ended by the territorial rain which hit that section about 10 o'clock.

A bigger gathering of the hooded klan is scheduled for Clearfield for Thursday, July 17th. This gathering, it is said, will be held on the Snyder farm across the river from Hyde City.

100th Ballot Throws
Davis Into Prominence.

FIELD BROADENS

By GEORGE B. HOLMES
INS Staff Correspondent

New York, July 9.—A wide open field again and a score of candidates to choose from.

This was the Democratic National convention today after 100 futile ballots in an effort to nominate a candidate for the Presidency, extending over eight days so filled with bitterness and hatred that the spectre of party disruption has ever been lurking in the wings of Madison Square Garden.

The personal feud between Wm. G. McAdoo and Gov. Alfred E. Smith ended in a draw—or rather a double knockout. They belittled each other into a state of helplessness, neither able to attain a majority of the 1024 delegates assembled, much less the two thirds necessary to nominate, and in the end both had to bow to the inevitable and efface themselves from the bloodiest Democratic picture of a generation. The convention adjourned at 4 o'clock this morning until noon after one ballot had been taken following McAdoo's withdrawal.

In going, McAdoo and Smith left behind them a field of aspirants from which the weary delegates will endeavor today to select a standard bearer. The battle they fought was so ferocious and so all-embracing that few if any of those that are left have escaped scot free from the wounds that have been handed out so generously the last two weeks.

John W. Davis of West Va., Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, Senator Joe T. Robinson, of Arkansas, Senator Carter Glass of Virginia and Edwin T. Meredith, of Iowa—these, in the order named, were believed today to have the best chance of gaining what Smith and McAdoo kept each other from getting.

Hard drives were in progress for each man this morning prior to the convention's meeting at noon; and the belief was general that the ultimate choice will be one of them.

Anybody's Guesses Yet

Davis apparently has more natural strength than any of them—he led them by a wide margin on the only ballot taken this morning following the retirement of McAdoo and Smith.

YOU CAN'T TELL
WHAT THOSE
IOWANS WILL DO

Rhodes, Iowa, July 9 (INS.)—When Walter Bundy's clothing was torn in a scuffle, revealing feminine curves, a secret of more than seven years, was exposed. Today "Walter" was to jail.

For those seven years Miss Bundy wore men's clothes and was accepted everywhere as a man. She worked on a farm as a laborer and general hand; men, worked with men, scuffed with men, and none of them ever suspected that she was anything else but one of them.

Three years ago, Walter married Elizabeth Webb and they have maintained a household ever since.

and definitely out "so long as Mr. McAdoo is out."

"We have just laid away our heavy artillery," said the Governor. "If the convention constructs Mr. McAdoo's letter as meaning that he too is definitely out then according to my agreement I am out too. If the convention starts to boost McAdoo then I'm in again."

The first ballot this morning displayed by all question that McAdoo's followers have taken his letter as meaning that he is out. His rocky states of Georgia, Tennessee and Texas left his standard and went in various directions.

The Smith followers were a bit slower in "getting off" the New York governor. Massachusetts and Pennsylvania still voted heavily for Smith, while waiting to see where else to go.

New York gave these allies the tip by throwing 86 1/2 of her 96 votes to Underwood on the initial ballot.

The Davis strength was widely scattered geographically. He drew heavily in the southern and mid-western states.

The widespread nature of his strength was best evidenced by the fact that 31 states and territories contributed to run his vote over the 300 mark.

Senator Wash polled almost 100 votes but whether these could be attributed to a sincere desire to name him or were merely in recognition of the gavel during this trying convention was difficult to determine.

One state, Oregon, a staunch McAdoo state, demanded a poll and succeeded in breaking the unit rule, splitting her ten votes among McAdoo, Davis, Underwood and Meredith.

Walsh ordered the roll call for the 101st ballot immediately.

Mr. Alexander Thompson, an Oregon delegate, interrupted the roll call for some information. She wanted to know from Walsh whether the statement of an individual candidate was "superior" to the instructions of a state convention.

Walsh told her that was a question between her and her constituents.

Every bit of energy and every dollar you invest in Clearfield will find its way back to you sooner or later, for a prosperous city will promote prosperity in its citizens. And YOU, as an individual, dear reader, can help promote the prosperity of Clearfield and incidentally your own prosperity by spending just as many good old American dollars here as you possibly can. And if you will stop and reason for a while before you make a purchase you will be surprised to find that 99.2-3% of what you buy can be purchased right here. Too many people of today are "penny wise and pound foolish." Read that line again, please. Do you know what we mean? How many times have you been inveigled into buying something thru the mails at an apparent saving of a few cents, only to find that when it arrived, after the usual waiting, that it was not just what you expected and then again the freight, mail or express, drayage, etc., had really made it cost more than you would have had to pay right here in Clearfield where you could have made your selection in person and from the actual goods themselves, and in the majority of cases, at an actual cash saving. But you didn't do that at the time, so your money was sent out of Clearfield to help swell the prosperity of some other community instead of your own. Your merchant is loyal to you. He proves that every day nearly when he subscribes funds to this and that to help make Clearfield a better place in which to live. Are you, dear reader, doing your share, or are you one of the ones who is shirking?

This series of articles has been prepared to help you to help yourself, and we want each and every man, woman and child to read them carefully and reach that they appear. If you will do this and tell all of your tributes to the religious, educational and in a short time that a greater prosperity in Clearfield is dawning for us all. All we need to do is to boost a little. Are you a booster?

Suppose we define "A Booster" and let's see how many of us really are one.

"A Booster is a citizen who talks as strong for his town when he is at home as he does when he is a thousand miles away."

A Booster is a man who is wise enough to know that by helping his community he is helping himself and acts on that knowledge.

A Booster is a man who contributes to the religious, educational, social, charitable and commercial undertakings of his city in proportion to his means.

A Booster is a man who will let the "We" spirit dominate his actions and will work in harmony with his fellow citizens, for the community betterment.

A Booster is a man who helps to keep this city clean morally and physically.

A Booster is a man who is willing to serve. A Booster is cautious in his criticism of others willing to serve.

A Booster is a man who believes in his fellow citizens and believes that his home town is the best place in the whole wide world.

A Booster is a man who spends his money in his home town to help build it into a prosperous community. That is a LOYAL BOOSTER.

A Booster is a man who believes in work, faith and charity, that day follows night, that time heals, that humanity contains more good than bad, and that this old world is a mighty good place to live.

Let's all get together and put our shoulders to the wheel. Let's both pull and push for Clearfield at every opportunity. Each week we are going to publish in this column something of vital interest to every resident of this community. Watch for them and read them carefully. Then act!

UNCLE SAM'S HOROSCOPE

Newspaper editors, as a rule, do not take astrology very seriously. The stars may guide human events and determine the news, for all an editor knows, but he is content to take the news as it comes, and get it into print as promptly as may be, without paying too deeply into occult explanations. Nevertheless, a widely published "daily horoscope" for the date of July 4th seems to invite comment, as a matter of public interest.

"Those whose birthday it is," says the horoscope, "may expect a lively and prosperous year, with increase of wealth and plenty of new business."

Now, isn't that rather reassuring, whether you believe in astrology or not? The Fourth, as everybody knows, is Uncle Sam's birthday. The horoscope, therefore, may properly be applied to the fortunes of the American people for the next twelve months. And possibly the astrologer responsible for this forecast knows as much about it as the more prosaic dopesters who write for the financial column.

"A lively and prosperous year." Lively, certainly, with the political pot a-boiling as it is! And really, a calm, open-minded, materialistic review of economic conditions tends to uphold the "seers" in their mystic revelations about coming prosperity. Business, never very bad, has been picking up lately, and there is ground for expecting a big gain in the fall, with plenty more "new business" abroad if the reparation plan works out according to program.

There is the caution, however, in this same horoscope, that Uncle "should give sufficient attention to important changes or journeys and not take undue risks". The stars can't do everything themselves.

JUST TO KEEP THE RECORD STRAIGHT

Taking it for granted that J. D. C. knows what he is talking about, and he ought to, for he looked in on the Democratic convention for a week, that party is absolutely dominated by that ogre always brought to the fore by the political spellbinder for want of a better argument, Big Business.

We are surprised at such an admission from so devoted a disciple of Democracy, especially in view of the claims so often made that the rank and file, and the officers too, of that party were all men in blouses, sans collar and tie.

For the purpose of setting the famous columnist right in modern events we beg leave to remind him that the delegates who assembled at Cleveland had their orders from the folks back home, orders given them at the primary when "Coolidge men" were elected as delegates over "Johnson men," "Pinchot men," "Lafollette men," and what not. When the first ballot was taken these delegates, simply echoed the call from back home, at least that part of them who are Republicans in party affiliation, were a unit; except for Wisconsin so small as to be negligible, for Calvin Coolidge, the father who now sit sorrowing in the White House. The able columnist forgets that a primary was held at which delegates were selected and told for whom they should vote.

At this same primary the Democrats elected delegates, some pledged, some unpledged. We agree that if there was a drop of sporting blood, a single iota of fair play in the make-up of that convention, William G. McAdoo would have been the nominee in less than ten ballots. He was the choice of the great majority of states this choice having been made in the presidential primaries. On the 79th ballot these states voted solidly for McAdoo: Arizona, California, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, District of Columbia and Canal Zone. He had 511 votes then. He had more state delegations than any other candidate. He represented, as near as anyone could represent, the Wilsonism so loudly cheered at its very mention on the floor. Despite all of these rightful claims on the nomination he was beaten, cut and slaughtered by the various managers of other "crumb hunters" in the hope that their particular "entry" might be the compromise man.

The leader who said from the convention floor yesterday that "presidential lightning rods" were too thick on the the convention floor hit the nail right on the head. Too many prominent Democrats were office hungry and in their intense hunger they forgot the first elements of decency, sportsmanship and sacrifice. McAdoo more than all for-and-become victims of greed and getting that party harmony was paramount to personal success.

For the moment granting that Andrew Mellon engineered the nomination of Calvin Coolidge, which he didn't, is that not much better than such a fiasco as we are witnessing at New York with Boss Taggart wait-

In the Courts

Edward C. Rothrock was appointed assessor of Morris township on Monday by Judge Chase to succeed Clifford Smeal, resigned.

Judge Chase also appointed George S. Swoope, auditor of the Bracy township School District vice F. F. Pentz, who has moved out of the district.

An order was made by Judge Chase on Monday directing Warden Billy McClure to destroy the six or eight dozen stills now in hoc at the county jail. On account of the constant increase in the jail population every inch of space within the four walls is needed and the present "still room" will thus be made available for incoming "stillers". After the stills are junked Warden McClure is required by the order to report to the Court for further instructions as to disposition of same.

Sam Skibo of Curwensville, is no relation to either the late Andy Carnegie nor his Skibo castle in Bonnie Scotland, but he succeeded in securing for himself quarters in the stone castle of McClure on the banks of the Susquehanna. Sam appeared before Judge Chase yesterday and entered a plea of guilty to the possession of a still which was found by Chief Clark in a raid upon the Skibo home. The records showed that Sam had been before the Clearfield County Courts once before on a liquor law violation charge and Judge Chase, directed that Skibo pay a fine of $300 and costs and serve ten months in the County jail.

C. J. Zerbe was sentenced to pay $15 per month for the support of a minor child and was given permission to visit the child when he so desired.

Judge Chase disposed of the costs in the Huston township School Board case, by directing that the county pay the costs because the dominant faction on the Board violated the law through ignorance as well as design.

An action in divorce was begun in the Clearfield County Courts Monday, according to papers filed by Pentz & Pentz, in which Anna I. Molend, seeks a divorce from William Molendo. Bigg was a gay Lothario, if the bill of particulars tell the truth, as he was married May 20, 1924, and his wife quit and moved out on June 10 because, she alleges, Bill was too intimate for a newly married man with one, Helen Spangler.

Eschol Clyde, by his attorney Earl G. Boose, is asking for a divorce from Jennie E. Clyde. The Clyde were married August 4, 1923, and the wife deserted April 15, 1924.

ing to put his old horse Ralston into the race when McAdoo develops spavin and Smith's lungs go bad or a do or so other garden gates get screechy?

Big Business does not care a hang about what the Democratic convention does. Big Business never worries over what it is quite apparent can never happen—the election of the choice of this strife torn convention.

Meanwhile disgruntled McAdoo men, disappointed Smith men and Democrats of other leanings will boom LaFollette in a forlorn hope that what they cannot gain for themselves might be lost to another. Selfishness again.

HELP FOR OLD FOLKS

Old Age Should Be Happy—Not a Time of Sickness and Suffering.

Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant backache, urinary and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause and, if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold! Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's. Here is convincing proof:

O. P. Conklin, prop. of shoe shop 8 Nichols St., residence Turnpike Ave., Paradise, Pa., says: "I had an attack of kidney trouble and was drowsy. I got dizzy and had severe headaches. A pain in the small of my back annoyed me badly when I tried to bend or stoop. Doan's Pills helped me greatly." (Statement given February 18, 1919.)

On Sept. 17, 1923 Mr. Conklin added: "I use Doan's occasionally and think as much of them as ever."

Progress Editorials for Women

WHEN THE WEDDING MARCH IS PLAYED

By FLORENCE DAVIES
A long church aisle, an altar banked with palms and flowers, soft organ music, lights from tall candles. Mother in the front pew, handkerchief in hand—daughter a shiver of white, coming presently down the aisle.

We've seen and heard it all, oh, so many times, and thought Mother's tears the natural relief from wedding excitement and nerve strain. But one young woman in these out-and-out, ultra modern days, has decided differently. "If you cry, Mother, I'll step right out of the procession and bat you one, on the head," she was heard to declare irreverently, and being a purposeful damsel of athletic build and afraid of nothing, it is clear that she might be expected to do exactly that if her small and emotional parent should take at her natural refuge and grow "all teary around the lashes."

There are other changes, too. Other things besides tears that the modern girl refuses to have as a part of the mementos of her marriage. The old customs of "The Age of Innocence" at Edith Wharton painted there, the evasions, the prudery, the blind-eyed entrance into marriage which all good girls used to be expected to make, are "ad nauseam" to the 20th century maiden, who not only calls a spade a spade, but knows how to wield one in her modern Eden.

An old mother is represented in one of the satirical magazines as lamenting over the scandal that has crept into her daughter's home. "It isn't my fault, that's one comfort. I brought Lucy up a good girl. Her mind was just a sheet of blank paper the day she was married," is her plea.

Somehow, the girls are learning to think for themselves on the question involved in holy matrimony, as well as on those affecting their well being in the single estate. At the Democratic convention in New York the other day, Mrs. Izetta Jewell Brown, in a straight-to-the-point speech, seconding one of the non-ness, told a story "by request." It was all about Willie's explanation of his Sunday School lesson. "God made the Garden of Eden," he said, "and then he made Adam. And by and by Adam and Eve went to sleep and then God took his pants out and made Woman." At any rate, don't expect so many minds like a sheet of blank paper, in these days of facing facts.

McADOO AND SMITH OUT OF THE FRAY

and the self effacement of Ralston of Indiana.

But there are many that believe the nomination of Senator Walsh, a Catholic, and one who epitomizes one of the great issues which the Democrats will go to the country on this campaign will do much to heal the wounds of religious discord caused by the vicious fight between Klan and anti-Klan here.

Robinson and Glass both have the backing of strong and resourceful state delegations. Both have a particular appeal to the South. Both have national reputations.

A Meredith, the legions who fought with McAdoo have had the word passed to them that McAdoo would be glad to have his friends work for the law as the natural heir to the McAdoo estate.

The one ballot—the 100th—that was taken this morning after the McAdoo retirement, did not afford a fair test of the relative strength of this new big five in the convention. The delegates were exhausted, and the leaders wanted time for reflection and conference before nominating, so they kept the vote pretty much as it had been before McAdoo and Smith knocked each other out. They kept it scattered and ineffectual so that some hours of rest and some hours of reflection might intervene before the time came for choice.

The 100th Ballot
On the 100th ballot, Smith was voted at his usual approximate figure, 55½. McAdoo polled 90; Davis 50½; Meredith 75½; Walsh 52½; Robinson 46; Glass 35; Underwood, 41½; Robinson 45; while a new boom was launched for Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina.

Numerous conferences were in progress this morning among the various leaders seeking to find a man who can command the 732 votes necessary to nominate. Having just broken one deadlock at a terrific cost to party harmony and the delegates' pocketbooks, the leaders were exceedingly anxious this morning to avoid as then if possible.

Roughly speaking, the Smith-Brennan-Gaffey coalition, embracing the great industrial states of the North and middle west, looked with favor on the candidacies of Davis and Robinson, while Walsh and Meredith appealed to the McAdoo-Bryan combination.

The problem of the Vice Presidential nomination is being considered along with that of the place on the ticket in the minds of the leaders. Strenuous efforts were made last night and this morning to persuade Governor Smith to stand for the vice presidency, but when he left the Manhattan club, he was tired and weary from the fortnight's incessant battle, he was in no mood for it. Whether sleep and rest and the entreaties of his friends will change his views remains to be seen.

Not Over Yet
No quick decision is looked for in today's balloting, unless the delegates themselves, weary and in many many cases financially embarrassed, take things out of the hands of the convention leaders and make a quick job of it left to their own devices. The leaders will make a nomination today slowly and with care.

Few major political gatherings have ever furnished a more dramatic convention than was furnished in the Garden in the small hours of this morning after Governor Smith early in the evening had hurled his defiance to McAdoo from the convention platform in the shape of an invitation to mutual withdrawal from the good of the party.

Governor Smith's invitation to Mr.

McAdoo to get out of the picture, promising to do so himself when—only when—he did, left the McAdoo managers cold. They would have none of it. An hour after the Smith bombshell, David L. Rockwell and other McAdoo managers were in the midst of their hardest drive for delegates and predicting Mr. McAdoo's nomination.

Four ballots changed their minds. In those four ballots McAdoo failed utterly to increase his strength. On the contrary it sagged on every ballot with one exception. McAdoo was in danger of losing his lead to the belated New York Governor.

A hurry call was sent out for all the McAdoo field marshals and floor lieutenants. They gathered in a room across the street from the Garden where for two weeks Mr. McAdoo has watched and directed his fight for the nomination. They decided the jig was up and that it was useless to continue the fight any longer.

Mr. McAdoo dictated the letter that was read to the convention at the end of the 99th ballot. It stated that he was unwilling to court further party chaos by continuing in the race, and he therewith released his delegates to go as they pleased. They went in various directions on the next ballot but nowhere in sufficient strength to cause any undue alarm.

The Smith vote hung together for the reason it was uncertain where to go, and Brennan and his allies wanted a period of rest and conference before undertaking a decision in this respect.

This decision was in the making today in the conferences that preceded the convention's opening at noon.

McAdoo's Letter
New York, July 9 (INS).—Following is the text of the letter sent to Thomas J. Walsh, Chairman of the Democratic National Convention by Wm. G. McAdoo, in which the latter released all delegates pledged to him: "I am profoundly grateful to the splendid men and women who have with such extraordinary loyalty supported me in this unprecedented struggle for a great cause.

"The convention has been in session two weeks and appears to be unable to make a nomination under the two-thirds rule. This is an unfavorable sign, imperiling party success.

"I feel that if I should withdraw my name from the convention I should betray the trust confided in me by the people in many states, which have sent delegates here to support me.

"And yet I am unwilling to contribute to the continuation of a hopeless deadlock. Therefore, I have determined to leave my friends and supporters free to make such action as in their judgment may best serve the interests of the party.

"I have made this fight from the principles and ideals of Progressive Democracy and righteousness, and for the defeat of the reactionary and wet elements in the party which threaten to dominate it. For these principles and ideals I shall continue to fight. I hope that this convention will never yield to reaction and privilege and that the Democratic party will always hold aloft the torch which was carried to such noble heights by Woodrow Wilson.

Cordially yours,
(Signed) W. G. McADOO."

ON THREE BALLOTS

resolution of sympathy for the family of Senator Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana. Emmet Ralston, the Senator's son, being ill in Indianapolis. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Davis increased his total on the 102nd ballot by almost 100 votes over what was polled on the 101st. On the 103rd he polled 415 votes—higher than any candidate except McAdoo has yet reached in the convention.

William Jennings Bryan became busy on the floor during today's balloting. He was plainly disturbed by the whole proceedings.

Neither Davis nor Underwood was on his "white list" of candidates, which he gave the convention a week ago and insisted upon the choice being made from it.

The Commissioner went from delegation to delegation doing what missionary work he could, but that he was having little success was shown by the mounting Davis and Underwood totals.

Violetta Buck and Miss Cousin left on Sunday afternoon to take up their studies at Clarion State Normal after spending the Fourth with their parents.

William Jackson, Jr., of Pittsburgh, spent the Fourth with relatives here.

Don't Allow Milk To Stand

On Your Porch. Put It On Ice.

These days are the hardest possible kind of days for keeping milk. The atmospheric conditions are such that milk will sour in a comparatively few minutes if exposed to the sun and high humidity.

As soon as possible after the wagonmen have delivered milk to your home, take it in and put it on ice or where it will be cold and away from other foods which have an odor. Milk, as you know, is very susceptible to the absorption of odors and will change in a few hours from the rich sweet milk which left our coolers to something which is only fit for the sewer.

So, take in the milk as soon as you can after it is delivered and put it on ice.

Boils

THERE is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S.S.S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power.

S. S. S. builds blood-power, it builds red blood-cells. That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights pimples. It fights skin eruptions. It always wins! Mr. W. D. Schaff, 157 15th street, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S.S.S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S.S.S. that did it."

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Why It Will Pay You To Trade In Clearfield

SHEEDER'S MUSIC HOUSE

SHEEDER'S MUSIC HOUSE is celebrating their 25th Anniversary in the Music business in Clearfield.

In February 1899 Mr. Fred T. Sheeder started to handle Pianos, Organs and Musical Instruments in the Schuyler Building and in July 1915, Mr. Wm. P. Sheeder purchased the business from his brother. On April 12th, 1917 he purchased the Kreher Building and moved the business into the present location on July 4th, 1917. They have enjoyed the confidence and patronage of the Community.

The lines of Merchandise handled is of National reputation. The famous Estey Piano and their Welte Mignon Reproducing Player is known the World over for its high quality.

... The Radle line of Pianos have been made since 1850.

The Victrola trade mark is known in every corner of the Earth. The White Sewing Machine is the Nation's first word in Sewing Machines because there are so many features of superior quality that it is known as the Nation's fastest Sewing Machine.

The Edison Recreating Phonograph has the first place in recreating the human voice exactly, none every even approached its wonderful tone quality.

Their Musical Instruments are the leading makes in America. They have always endeavored to maintain the reputation as the HOUSE OF QUALITY.

Summer and the Wrist Watch

The search for comfortable attire during the Summer months has gradually resulted in the elimination of that hot, uncomfortable garment—the vest. The wrist watch, therefore, is no longer considered as unmanly or "flashy," but rather a sensible, convenient and comfortable time piece.

How nice it is not to be bothered with your vest pocket watch tugging at your lapel or resting in the awkward and "out of date" trouser watch pocket. Men are beginning to realize this more and more, and consequently many a 12 size watch is given a long summer's rest.

National Buy At Home Movement

THE NATIONAL BUY-AT-HOME MOVEMENT is a great national co-operative league of loyal, home-loving people of the different communities throughout the nation, banded together for the conservation, growth and development of our smaller cities, towns and villages.

This great movement presents to the business men and citizens of each community an opportunity to join their various interests and build a permanent, buy-at-home organization which will afford immediate, personal and lasting benefits to every man, woman and child in their community.

The getting started part is simply a matter of each individual making a resolution to boost the home community at every opportunity; to do all of their buying at home and work together in everything that will help make the home town a bigger, better and more prosperous town in which to live. The adoption of such a resolution by the citizens of any community will stimulate community interest and co-operation to such an extent that there is nothing that cannot be undertaken and carried to achievement.

Your interests are identical and why should you not stand together? The common good is your good. No one person can disconnect his affairs from that of the community in which he lives.

Every responsibility of a community is a responsibility of the individual and the interests of the community can best be advanced by the united efforts and united activity of the entire community working together to develop that community to a bigger, busier and more progressive place in which to live and do business.

It is civic pride and united effort that built most of our large cities. Are the men who are responsible for the building of these cities any more progressive than the men entrusted with the building of your city or community?

Co-operation can and will do it, and the while matter hinges on your willingness to do your part.

When We All Pull Together

What wonderful results have been obtained by concerted efforts in the recent war activities. Without this unity of purpose on the part of the people of communities the mammoth Liberty Loans could not have been possible, the Red Cross campaigns would have failed; and, in fact, none of the great things that we have accomplished could have been possible with the people of the country pulling in opposite directions. This is true in just as large a sense in community work of the Buy-at-Home Movement. With each and every resident of a community pulling for the home town, a force is presented that cannot be defeated. That town will be a better place in which to live and do business.

The Town Is The Center

The modern town is not only the trading center of the community, but it is the social, educational and religious center as well. Just how far this town will advance or go backward in the scale of a town's growth depends altogether upon the people of that particular city or town. Each town is a community center. If the people of the center of things are alive to the possibilities of the community it will advance; if not, there is nothing under the sun that will keep that town alive. Another and more progressive town will spring up and with the more rapid methods of today's travel almost any distance is made short in comparison with that of the yesterday. There is greater need of civic pride and civic effort today than ever before. No town, however well entrenched, is immune to the constant reaching out of other cities and towns after the trade and the progressive spirit and element. It is in keeping with the modern idea to be ever vigilant. "Keep your lamps trimmed and burning." Not for even a moment allow an opportunity that will advance the welfare of your home town to escape you. "If it's a good thing we have it," cannot be beaten as a community slogan. This applies to the merchandising and the civic appeals of the town as well. The town that draws and secures the trade of all the people of the community is assured of success.

WHERE DO YOU STAND?

Are you standing at the cross roads of DUTY and NEGLECT? Which road are you going to take?

Why should you be doing your bit for the development and betterment of the community in which you live?

The good, loyal citizens of your home town are striving, constantly, to increase the money-making possibilities there.

Are you going to co-operate by taking an active, personal interest and do your share?

Are you going to help increase real estate and farm values of your home community and the opportunities for investment, business and employment there?

If you are, start right in today to boost the home town by doing all of your buying there. It is YOUR town and needs your financial support—your moral support, your business judgment, your advice, your ideas, your personality, your co-operation in every way. Only by taking a personal interest in the welfare of your community can you ever hope to be honored and respected there.

We must not cease to regard the community in which we live as our larger home; nor neglect to advance those things which must be done to advance the interests of ourselves, our children and our children's children.

Little Eleanor, aged six, was sitting at the supper table. Her mother dished her out some corn, whereupon Eleanor drew her plate aside. When her mother asked her what the trouble was she remarked, "How do you expect me to eat the corn when you all had it on your feet."

A Word to the Wise

"In March I was called to the bedside of my sister in Denton, Alabama. She was given up to die and was almost dead. Talked in a whisper. Doctors said nothing but an operation would save her and she was too weak for that. Her color was yellow as a pumpkin and she was filled with gas. That day I heard of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and went and got a bottle for her. In three weeks she was able to be about and walked a mile to church. I am praising your medicine to everyone." Chrysler Makes Sure—Then Adopts Balloons

The Brougham

It is doubtful if the public fully realizes how important it is that any car equipped with balloon tires be designed to get the greatest satisfaction out of them. The pivotal steering of the Chrysler; its extra-wide fenders, which eliminate spatter, meet the particular requirements of balloon tires. Pivotal steering means steering pins inclined to a line which passes through the center of the tire's contact with the road. These pins turn on ball thrust bearings, as easy as you steer ordinary size tires.

The Chrysler Six is designed for balloon tires from the ground up. It is characteristic of Chrysler engineering, however, that it has worked with the tire makers in developing special six-ply, high-speed balloon tires for standard equipment.

The six-ply, high-speed balloon tires used on the Chrysler Six are specially designed and constructed, to meet the higher speed capacity of the car and still provide the greater resiliency of ordinary balloon types.

The exhaustive tests of Chrysler engineers mean that Chrysler owners now have the advantage of full mileage service, with all the resiliency and easier riding of balloons.

JOHN W. DAVIS IS DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE ON 103RD BALLOT

ON THREE BALLOTS TODAY POPULAR
WEST VIRGINIA DIPLOMAT AND WALL
STREET LAWYER RIDES TO NOMINATIONAttains Majority As 103d Ballot Is Being Taken;
Meredith Withdraws and the Big Band Wagon
Movement Gets Under Full Steam and Cannot Be Stopped.

EVERYBODY SWINGS INTO THE PARADE

John W. Davis of West Virginia and New York was nominated for the presidency by the Democratic convention here this afternoon.

His nomination, accomplished on the 103rd ballot, ended the most extended deadlock that ever existed in any major political convention. It came only four ballots after the withdrawal of the deadlocking pair, McAdoo and Smith. The West Virginian was really challenged seriously by but one candidate following the McAdoo-Smith retirement—Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama. They had a short brush for a few ballots but the great secondary strength that the West Virginian has always had in the convention came to the surface rapidly when called for and Underwood was easily defeated.

The band organ for Davis started with the 103rd ballot. As the roll call proceeded, the line of states and the Davis strength began to become more and more apparent, state after state fell into line, until at the end he had a majority—the first time in 103 ballots that any candidate ever had crossed the majority line.

From that point the convention became a procession of state chairmen seeking to change votes that had been cast against the West Virginian.

George E. Brennan, the Illinois boss, sat with a pencil and paper as the roll call proceeded. He had thrown the old Smith following to Underwood for three ballots—the support Underwood had given the anti-klan in the convention.

Brennan said his allies had voted for Underwood on these ballots while the old McAdoo, forced, following the natural line of division, produced by more than two weeks of hatred and bitterness, went ahead and piled up a huge total for Davis.

Brennan only smiled, he had been favorable to Davis all the time, and just as soon as the majority point was reached, Brennan gave the signal himself. He rose and belittled over the heads of a dozen state chairmen who were seeking to change their votes: "Illinois wants to change her vote."

He got the recognition he demanded at last and cast Illinois' 53 votes for Davis.

California followed. Then Roosevelt, the Smith manager of the Governor Smith, raised himself on his crippled legs and changed New York's vote so as to give 60 for Davis.

Governor Field of Kentucky, Senator Swanson of Virginia, Gov. Morris of North Carolina, and Ed H. Moore of Ohio, then successively got the recognition of the chair and changed the votes of their states.

While this was going on, the chairmen of the Iowa delegation was yelling for recognition. He finally got it and withdrew the name of Meredith—head of some of the changes—and quite in sufficient time to hop on the band wagon.

Tom Taggart of Indiana then moved

MALONE DEMANDS
THAT BRYAN GET
OUT OF THE PARTY

New York, July 9 (INS).—Dudley Field Malone, former collector of the port in New York City, today made public a copy of a letter he had sent William Jennings Bryan in which he accused the Democratic party by injecting the religious issue into the fight for the Presidential nomination Malone declared the time had come when Bryan should retire from activity in the Democratic party.

that the nomination of Davis be made by acclamation.

Amid an inferno of noise, yells and applause, Chairman Walsh put the question. It was answered by a thunderous "aye" that made the bunting around the old garden quiver with the gust.

The parade of state standards followed almost immediately.

West Virginia led off—Davis' home folks. They had voted blithely and confidently for Davis from the start, although McAdoo had succeeded in raising them for a delegate at critical times at the height of one of his drives.

Louisiana followed. They too had been sticking to Davis since way back yonder when this convention started. Around and around the Garden the speaker's platform where Senator Walsh stood smiling down on them many shouted:

"And now for you for Vive President."

The nomination of Davis—after eight deadlocked hot and bitter days—was greeted with a yell of relief that must have penetrated to the Bronx, or to the Battery where John W. Davis has his office. McAdoo and Smith men at sword's points and fist-cuffs for three weeks got together under the Davis banner and forgot it—at least temporarily.

Everybody was happy for the first time in three weeks, or nearly everybody, at least.

Wm. J. Bryan wasn't very happy but said he "would support the ticket."

Mr. Davis had not been on his "white list" of candidates which he presented to the convention last week in an impassioned speech.

In his articles Bryan has been calling Mr. Davis "J. P. Morgan's lawyer."

In the few ballots that preceded Davis' selection, the Commoner got busy on the floor trying to stonify the issue. He might as well have tried to stonify Niagara.

The home hungry delegates, inspired by the thought of agreement at last, were Davis-bound and they couldn't be headed.

F. D. Roosevelt, Smith's manager, was happy.

"Thank God," he said, "we got a good man at last and can go home happy."

Ex-Governor McCorkle of West Virginia was recognized after the parade and cheering had been in progress for 15 minutes.

He was escorted to the platform amid applause and said: "You have put your standard in worthy hands."

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 9.—John W. Davis, of West Virginia, jumped into the lead in the contest for the Democratic presidential nomination today on the first ballot taken following the retirement of McAdoo and Smith.

The West Virginian polled more than 300 votes on the initial ballot—the 101st of the convention—and was followed in second place by Sen. Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, who inherited most of the Smith strength because of the strong stand the Alabamian took against the klan.

The McAdoo states went heavily to Davis, a few for E. T. Meredith, of Iowa, and a few to Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana.

The Brennan-Smith forces decided to "get behind Underwood and give him a ride" in return for his help in the klan fight. The first ballot today was in the nature of a test or trial heat and Davis stood out head and shoulders above the field, despite the eastern backing of Underwood.

The decision to give Underwood "a ride" was issued at a conference of Smith managers held just as the convention was getting under way.

Gov. Smith issued definite notice of this conference that under no circumstances would he accept the vice presidency.

Speaking to newspaper correspondents, Smith said that he was finally

CALVIN COOLIDGE, JR., WILL TONIGHT
RETURN TO SCENES OF HIS CHILDHOOD,
THERE TO DWELL ETERNALLY IN SLEEPBy HARRY WARD
N. S. Staff Correspondent

Washington, July 9.—With simple ceremonies no different than those which would take place in any other American home, except for the presence of scores of government officials, and the diplomatic representatives of foreign nations, the President and Mrs. Coolidge this evening poured out the grief of their hearts at the bier of their youngest son, Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

In the historic, high-ceilinged east room of the White House, heavy with the scent of lovely blossoms expressive of the sympathy of America and the world for this father and mother in their bereavement, the funeral service took place at four o'clock.

All of the invited guests were present, standing with bowed heads, when Mrs. Coolidge, veiled and weeping softly, entered, leaning heavily on the arm of her husband. The President looked straight ahead, his lips tight, his face drawn, striving to conceal the pain that he has suffered since the loss of his boy. Behind came their son, John, and the military and naval aides, attached to the Executive Mansion.

Washington, July 9.—In the flower-filled East Room of the White House, watched over by his sailor chums from the Mayflower, Calvin Coolidge, Jr., slept for the last time today.

Tonight at 9 o'clock the 16-year-old son of the President, whose death has saddened the national capital, and called forth deep grief and sympathy from the whole nation, will begin the long journey first to the scenes of his childhood at Northampton, Mass., and then to the little hillside cemetery among the rugged Vermont hills where he will sleep forever among his ancestors.

Simple funeral services will be held at the White House at four o'clock this afternoon. There will be no sermon, in keeping with the desire of the President and Mrs. Coolidge to avoid all formal or official ceremonies.

A short prayer will be offered by the Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Washington, followed by the singing of one of the boy's favorite hymns.

and reading of the Congressional funeral ritual.

Intimate friends of the presidential family, members of the cabinet, senators and congressmen and members of the First Congregational Church of Washington, who are invited to the hour of the funeral and informed that "should attendance cause them no inconvenience the President would be deeply honored." Only three members of the cabinet are in the city—Secretary of War Weeks, who has assisted the President in making the funeral arrangements, Secretary of the Interior Work, and Postmaster General New. Secretary of State Hughes, who is in New York, and Secretary of Labor Davis, who is in Chicago, are expected to join the funeral party in Northampton tomorrow morning. Among the official guests will be 12 ranking officers of both the army and navy and the chiefs of the independent government establishments at Washington.

Because of the general expressions of sympathy throughout the capital, the President will permit the public to gather, if they desire, in the north grounds of the executive mansion facing on Pennsylvania avenue. Only invited guests, however, will be admitted to the White House and the body will not formally enter the state, although intimate friends will be permitted to pay their last respects.

The ceremonies at the White House this afternoon are not expected to consume more than an hour. Between five and eight o'clock, arrangements will be made for the train journey to Northampton. The Presidential funeral party will leave the capital at 9 p. m. via the Pennsylvania railroad and is due in Northampton about 9 o'clock in the morning.

Besides the President and Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, the party will include such members of the cabinet as desire to accompany the body, J. Butler Wright, the acting Secretary of State; Col. C. O. Sherrill, the President's chief military aide; Captain Adolphus Andrews, the chief naval aide; Commander Joel T. Boone and Major James F. Coupal, the White House physicians who directed the fight to save young Calvin's life; and the Rev. Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, the President's pastor. Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns, of Boston, intimate friends of the Coolidge family; C. Bascom Slemm, the White House secretary, and Edward B. Clark, the

Able Banker Speak And
Accept Fine Club Emblem

A record hot weather attendance of the Commercial Club met with Minehost Jordan on Monday evening to hear the reports of the various committees, who had been assigned tasks from the previous meeting.

The float committee reported that they HAD a float in the parade but DID NOT win a prize. Committee discharged without trial. The publicity committee reported that the call for the Lakes-to-Sea Highway fold-ers continued to be heavy as the result of publicity stories sent to the newspapers in the neighboring states.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. William H. Hutt, Deputy Governor of the Third District Federal Reserve Bank, of Philadelphia. Mr. Hutt gave a very interesting history of our currency system from its inception during colonial times down to the present, comparing its workings with the systems of other countries especially with the Bank of England system which has been taken as a basis of all national currency systems the world over.

The beautiful club emblem, a black walnut plaque lettered in gold with the words, "Clearfield Commercial Club" was unveiled and accepted by the club with thanks to Commercialite Shaw for the work he has done on the emblem.

Club guests from out of town were Messrs A. E. Green and John D. Myers, of Philadelphia, who accompanied Mr. Hutt on his trip to talk to the club. Both of these gentlemen are connected with the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia.

Hughes In Line For The Presidency Of American
Bar Association In 1925

Philadelphia, July 9.—Charles Evans Hughes, Secretary of State, will probably be the unanimous choice of delegates to the American Bar Association as their president for the coming year when the election is held at the Academy of Music here tomorrow.

Mr. Hughes was given a great reception last night when he stepped on the platform during the session of the Bar Association meeting. He will lead the delegation from the United States on its trip to England where courts and government systems will be studied closely this fall.

He was absent from today's session of the convention and will probably not return tomorrow for the election because of the funeral services for Calvin Coolidge, Jr., which he expected to attend.

Edwards Motor Transit
Comp'y Turns Fine Trick
In Hauling Picnickers

Another of those so-called heartless corporations proves itself to have something as big as a heart and performing the same functions. This time it is the Edwards Motor Transit Company of Curwensville, which, when it heard the Salvation Army intended to picnic at the Pee Wee's Nest tomorrow, immediately telephoned to Captain Watson to tell him they would furnish transportation for all and everything.

The Captain was indeed a happily surprised man and those who take in the picnic are now assured of a comfortable ride to Curwensville's popular park in rain-proof, easy riding buses.

The first bus will leave the Salvation Army hall at 9 o'clock. Be there on time if you are going. The last one will leave at 9:30. Be sure to be there before that time.

Secretary Wilbur Gives
Wholesome Americanism
Advice To Endevorsers

Pittsburgh, July 9. (INS).—"The ballot is your sword with which to fight evil," was the advice Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur gave more than 12,000 delegates to the 11th biennial Pennsylvania State Christian Endeavor convention, last night at Forbes Field, when he spoke on "Preparedness."

Mr. Wilbur declared that the ballot "so freely handed you at the polling place is not a mere scrap of paper. It has been paid for by the blood, the prayers, the tears and agony of countless millions of every age, and by the grit and determination of our grandfathers, who more than once braved the wrath of a hostile world, and prayerbook in hand, founded the freest government on earth."

The navy head lauded the dry law, declaring that the Eighteenth Amendment freed the people "from poverty and disease and gave the boys a chance to grow up."

Woman suffrage, Secretary Wilbur declared, did away with boss rule and doubled "our electorate."

Mr. Wilbur left last night after his address on account of the death of Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

FOURTEEN ARRESTED
IN ARDMORE CRIME;
POLICE SAY THEY HAVE CONFESSION

Ardmore, July 9. (INS).—Fourteen men were under arrest today, charged with inciting to riot, assault and battery, unlawful assembly and attempted murder in connection with two alleged Ku Klux Klan demonstrations here and in Upper Darby county in which two policemen were shot. All have confessed, according to police, and five of those held were members of the suburban police force.

The affair at Ardmore was started by the burning of a cross which caused an alarm to be turned in by persons who saw the blaze. Francis X. Roy and Albert Miller, Lower Merion township policemen, answered the call and when they saw two men walking away from the cross they demanded that they halt. Instead they opened fire, wounding both policemen.

In Upper Darby township one policeman and nine of his friends dressed as klansmen marched on a negro camp meeting which was followed by an exchange of shots, none being seriously hurt.

Those held in connection with the Ardmore trouble are Latorino McGourry, 36 years old; Joseph Boyd, 20; Robert Stewart, 35; and Wm. R. Baker, 30. Harry Trout was the policeman arrested in the other affair.

HAD BIG GATHERING

Several hundred members of the Ku Klux Klan gathered in a field on the farm of Ed T. Henry at Susquehanna Bridge, just below Curwensville borough last evening and held a "kon-klave" of some kind. There were fifty or more cars from the Luthersburg-DuBois country and about an equal number which traveled from and to the Clearfield section.

Several lights were erected about the field and hooded and robed figures were quite busy about the place until hostilities were ended by the territorial rain which hit that section about 10 o'clock.

A bigger gathering of the hooded klan is scheduled for Clearfield for Thursday, July 17th. This gathering, it is said, will be held on the Snyder farm across the river from Hyde City.

M'ADOO AND SMITH

M'ADOO WITHDREWAfter McAdoo's Letter

100th Ballot Throws
Davis Into Prominence.

FIELD BROADENS

By GEORGE B. HOLMES
INS Staff Correspondent

New York, July 9.—A wide open field again and a score of candidates to choose from.

This was the Democratic National convention today after 100 futile ballots in an effort to nominate a candidate for the Presidency, extending over eight days so filled with bitterness and hatred that the spectre of party disruption has ever been lurking in the wings of Madison Square Garden.

The personal feud between Wm. G. McAdoo and Gov. Alfred E. Smith ended in a draw—or rather a double knockout. They belittled each other into a state of helplessness, neither able to attain a majority of the 1024 delegates assembled, much less the two thirds necessary to nominate, and in the end both had to bow to the inevitable and efface themselves from the bloodiest Democratic picture of a generation. The convention adjourned at 4 o'clock this morning until noon after one ballot had been taken following McAdoo's withdrawal.

In going, McAdoo and Smith left behind them a field of aspirants from which the weary delegates will endeavor today to select a standard bearer. The battle they fought was so ferocious and so all-embracing that few if any of those that are left have escaped scot free from the wounds that have been handed out so generously the last two weeks.

John W. Davis of West Va., Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, Senator Joe T. Robinson, of Arkansas, Senator Carter Glass of Virginia and Edwin T. Meredith, of Iowa—these, in the order named, were believed today to have the best chance of gaining what Smith and McAdoo kept each other from getting.

Hard drives were in progress for each man this morning prior to the convention's meeting at noon; and the belief was general that the ultimate choice will be one of them.

Anybody's Guess Yet

Davis apparently has more natural strength than any of them—he led them by a wide margin on the only ballot taken this morning following the retirement of McAdoo and Smith.

WHAT THOSE
IOWANS WILL DO

Rhodes, Iowa, July 9 (INS).—When Walter Bundy's clothing was torn in a scuffle, revealing feminine curves, a secret of more than seven years, was exposed. Today "Walter" was to jail.

For those seven years Miss Bundy wore men's clothing and was accepted everywhere as a man. She worked on a farm as a laborer and general hand; men, worked with men, scuffed with men and none of them ever suspected that she was anything else but one of them.

Three years ago, Walter married Elizabeth Webb and they have maintained a household ever since.

ON THREE BALLOTS

and definitely out "so long as Mr. McAdoo is out."

"We have just laid away our heavy artillery," said the Governor. "If the convention constructs Mr. McAdoo's letter as meaning that he too is definitely out then according to my agreement I am out too. If the convention starts to boost McAdoo then I'm in again."

The first ballot this morning displayed by all question that McAdoo's followers have taken his letter as meaning that he is out. His rocky states of Georgia, Tennessee and Texas left his standard and went in various directions.

The Smith followers were a bit slower in "getting off" the New York governor. Massachusetts and Pennsylvania still voted heavily for Smith, while waiting to see where else to go.

New York gave these allies the tip by throwing 86 1/2 of her 96 votes to Underwood on the initial ballot.

The Davis strength was widely scattered geographically. He drew heavily in the southern and mid-western states.

The widespread nature of his strength was best evidenced by the fact that 31 states and territories contributed to run his vote over the 300 mark.

Senator Wash polled almost 100 votes but whether these could be attributed to a sincere desire to name him or were merely in recognition of the gavel during this trying convention was difficult to determine.

One state, Oregon, a staunch McAdoo state, demanded a poll and succeeded in breaking the unit rule, splitting her ten votes among McAdoo, Davis, Underwood and Meredith.

Final 101st Ballot.

McAdoo 49 1/2,
Smith 121,
J. W. Davis, 316,
Underwood, 229 1/2,

Owen, 23,
Walsh, 58.

Meredith, 130.
Houston, 9,
Murphree, 4,
Cummings, 2,
Gerard, 16.
Walsh ordered the roll call for the 101st ballot immediately.

Mr. Alexander Thompson, an Oregon delegate, interrupted the roll call for some information. She wanted to know from Walsh whether the statement of an individual candidate was "superior" to the instructions of a state convention.

Walsh told her that was a question between her and her constituents.

In addition to the regular photograph and portrait work, Mr. Shull gives special attention to framing, also developing and printing of films, lantern slides and coloring of photographs. And last but not least commercial work is an important branch of the business.

Pictures play a very important part in world affairs but it is an established fact that the average person does not realize their importance in the progress of civilization.

Why It Will Pay You To Trade In Clearfield

A town or community is very much like an individual, for as the various individuals in the community are, so is the community itself. A man who is enterprising, willing to work and able to apply some mentality to his efforts, is the one who will win in the final analysis. Every bit of energy and every dollar you invest in Clearfield will find its way back to you sooner or later, for a prosperous city will promote prosperity in its citizens. And YOU, as an individual, dear reader, can help promote the prosperity of Clearfield and incidentally your own prosperity by spending just as many good old American dollars here as you possibly can. And if you will stop and reason for a while before you make a purchase you will be surprised to find that 99.2-3% of what you buy can be purchased right here. Too many people of today are "penny wise and pound foolish." Read that line again, please. Do you know what we mean? How many times have you been inveigled into buying something thru the mails at an apparent saving of a few cents, only to find that when it arrived, after the usual waiting, that it was not just what you expected and then again the freight, mail or express, drayage, etc., had really made it cost more than you would have had to pay right here in Clearfield where you could have made your selection in person and from the actual goods themselves, and in the majority of cases, at an actual cash saving. But you didn't do that at the time, so your money was sent out of Clearfield to help swell the prosperity of some other community instead of your own. Your merchant is loyal to you. He proves that every day nearly when he subscribes funds to this and that to help make Clearfield a better place in which to live. Are you, dear reader, doing your share, or are you one of the ones who is shirking?

This series of articles has been prepared to help you to help yourself, and we want each and every man, woman and child to read them carefully and reach that they appear. If you will do this and tell all of your tributes to the religious, educational and in a short time that a greater prosperity in Clearfield is dawning for us all. All we need to do is to boost a little. Are you a booster?

Suppose we define "A Booster" and let's see how many of us really are one.

"A Booster is a citizen who talks as strong for his town when he is at home as he does when he is a thousand miles away."

A Booster is a man who is wise enough to know that by helping his community he is helping himself and acts on that knowledge.

A Booster is a man who contributes to the religious, educational, social, charitable and commercial undertakings of his city in proportion to his means.

A Booster is a man who will let the "We" spirit dominate his actions and will work in harmony with his fellow citizens, for the community betterment.

A Booster is a man who helps to keep this city clean morally and physically.

A Booster is a man who is willing to serve. A Booster is cautious in his criticism of others willing to serve.

A Booster is a man who believes in his fellow citizens and believes that his home town is the best place in the whole wide world.

A Booster is a man who spends his money in his home town to help build it into a prosperous community. That is a LOYAL BOOSTER.

A Booster is a man who believes in work, faith and charity, that day follows night, that time heals, that humanity contains more good than bad, and that this old world is a mighty good place to live.

Let's all get together and put our shoulders to the wheel. Let's both pull and push for Clearfield at every opportunity. Each week we are going to publish in this column something of vital interest to every resident of this community. Watch for them and read them carefully. Then act!

UNCLE SAM'S HOROSCOPE

Newspaper editors, as a rule, do not take astrology very seriously. The stars may guide human events and determine the news, for all an editor knows, but he is content to take the news as it comes, and get it into print as promptly as may be, without paying too deeply into occult explanations. Nevertheless, a widely published "daily horoscope" for the date of July 4th seems to invite comment, as a matter of public interest.

"Those whose birthday it is," says the horoscope, "may expect a lively and prosperous year, with increase of wealth and plenty of new business."

Now, isn't that rather reassuring, whether you believe in astrology or not? The Fourth, as everybody knows, is Uncle Sam's birthday. The horoscope, therefore, may properly be applied to the fortunes of the American people for the next twelve months. And possibly the astrologer responsible for this forecast knows as much about it as the more prosaic dopesters who write for the financial column.

"A lively and prosperous year." Lively, certainly, with the political pot a-boiling as it is! And really, a calm, open-minded, materialistic review of economic conditions tends to uphold the "seers" in their mystic revelations about coming prosperity. Business, never very bad, has been picking up lately, and there is ground for expecting a big gain in the fall, with plenty more "new business" abroad if the reparation plan works out according to program.

There is the caution, however, in this same horoscope, that Uncle "should give sufficient attention to important changes or journeys and not take undue risks". The stars can't do everything themselves.

JUST TO KEEP THE RECORD STRAIGHT

Taking it for granted that J. D. C. knows what he is talking about, and he ought to, for he looked in on the Democratic convention for a week, that party is absolutely dominated by that ogre always brought to the fore by the political spellbinder for want of a better argument, Big Business.

We are surprised at such an admission from so devoted a disciple of Democracy, especially in view of the claims so often made that the rank and file, and the officers too, of that party were all men in blouses, sans collar and tie.

For the purpose of setting the famous columnist right in modern events we beg leave to remind him that the delegates who assembled at Cleveland had their orders from the folks back home, orders given them at the primary when "Coolidge men" were elected as delegates over "Johnson men," "Pinchot men," "Lafollette men," and what not. When the first ballot was taken these delegates, simply echoed the call from back home, at least that part of them who are Republicans in party affiliation, were a unit; except for Wisconsin so small as to be negligible, for Calvin Coolidge, the father who now sit sorrowing in the White House. The able columnist forgets that a primary was held at which delegates were selected and told for whom they should vote.

At this same primary the Democrats elected delegates, some pledged, some unpledged. We agree that if there was a drop of sporting blood, a single iota of fair play in the make-up of that convention, William G. McAdoo would have been the nominee in less than ten ballots. He was the choice of the great majority of states this choice having been made in the presidential primaries. On the 79th ballot these states voted solidly for McAdoo: Arizona, California, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, District of Columbia and Canal Zone. He had 511 votes then. He had more state delegations than any other candidate. He represented, as near as anyone could represent, the Wilsonism so loudly cheered at its very mention on the floor. Despite all of these rightful claims on the nomination he was beaten, cut and slaughtered by the various managers of other "crumb hunters" in the hope that their particular "entry" might be the compromise man.

The leader who said from the convention floor yesterday that "presidential lightning rods" were too thick on the the convention floor hit the nail right on the head. Too many prominent Democrats were office hungry and in their intense hunger they forgot the first elements of decency, sportsmanship and sacrifice. McAdoo more than all for-and-become victims of greed and getting that party harmony was paramount to personal success.

For the moment granting that Andrew Mellon engineered the nomination of Calvin Coolidge, which he didn't, is that not much better than such a fiasco as we are witnessing at New York with Boss Taggart wait-

In the Courts

Edward C. Rothrock was appointed assessor of Morris township on Monday by Judge Chase to succeed Clifford Smeal, resigned.

Judge Chase also appointed George S. Swoope, auditor of the Bracy township School District vice F. F. Pentz, who has moved out of the district.

An order was made by Judge Chase on Monday directing Warden Billy McClure to destroy the six or eight dozen stills now in hoc at the county jail. On account of the constant increase in the jail population every inch of space within the four walls is needed and the present "still room" will thus be made available for incoming "stillers". After the stills are junked Warden McClure is required by the order to report to the Court for further instructions as to disposition of same.

Sam Skibo of Curwensville, is no relation to either the late Andy Carnegie nor his Skibo castle in Bonnie Scotland, but he succeeded in securing for himself quarters in the stone castle of McClure on the banks of the Susquehanna. Sam appeared before Judge Chase yesterday and entered a plea of guilty to the possession of a still which was found by Chief Clark in a raid upon the Skibo home. The records showed that Sam had been before the Clearfield County Courts once before on a liquor law violation charge and Judge Chase, directed that Skibo pay a fine of $300 and costs and serve ten months in the County jail.

C. J. Zerbie was sentenced to pay $15 per month for the support of a minor child and was given permission to visit the child when he so desired.

Judge Chase disposed of the costs in the Huston township School Board case, by directing that the county pay the costs because the dominant faction on the Board violated the law through ignorance as well as design.

An action in divorce was begun in the Clearfield County Courts Monday, according to papers filed by Pentz & Pentz, in which Anna I. Molend, seeks a divorce from William Molendo. Bigg was a gay Lothario, if the bill of particulars tell the truth, as he was married May 20, 1924, and his wife quit and moved out on June 10 because, she alleges, Bill was too intimate for a newly married man with one, Helen Spangler.

Eschol Clyde, by his attorney Earl G. Boose, is asking for a divorce from Jennie E. Clyde. The Clyde were married August 4, 1923, and the wife deserted April 15, 1924.

ing to put his old horse Ralston into the race when McAdoo develops spavin and Smith's lungs go bad or a do or so other garden gates get screechy?

Big Business does not care a hang about what the Democratic convention does. Big Business never worries over what it is quite apparent can never happen—the election of the choice of this strife torn convention.

Meanwhile disgruntled McAdoo men, disappointed Smith men and Democrats of other leanings will boom LaFollette in a forlorn hope that what they cannot gain for themselves might be lost to another. Selfishness again.

HELP FOR OLD FOLKS

Old Age Should Be Happy—Not a Time of Sickness and Suffering.

Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant backache, urinary and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause and, if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold! Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's. Here is convincing proof:

O. P. Conklin, prop. of shoe shop 8 Nichols St., residence Turnpike Ave., Paradise, Pa., says: "I had an attack of kidney trouble and was drowsy. I got dizzy and had severe headaches. A pain in the small of my back annoyed me badly when I tried to bend or stoop. Doan's Pills helped me greatly." (Statement given February 18, 1919.)

On Sept. 17, 1923 Mr. Conklin added: "I use Doan's occasionally and think as much of them as ever."

Progress Editorials for Women

WHEN THE WEDDING MARCH IS PLAYED

By FLORENCE DAVIES

A long church aisle, an altar banked with palms and flowers, soft organ music, lights from tall candles. Mother in the front pew, handkerchief in hand—daughter a shiver of white, coming presently down the aisle.

We've seen and heard it all, oh, so many times, and thought Mother's tears the natural relief from wedding excitement and nerve strain.

But one young woman in these out-and-out, ultra modern days, has decided differently. "If you cry, Mother, I'll step right out of the procession and bat you one, on the head," she was heard to declare irreverently, and being a purposeful damsel of athletic build and afraid of nothing, it is clear that she might be expected to do exactly that if her small and emotional parent should take at her natural refuge and grow "all teary around the lashes."

There are other changes, too. Other things besides tears that the modern girl refuses to have as a part of her marriage. The old-fashioned "The Age of Innocence" at Edith Wharton painted there, the evasions, the prudery, the blind-eyed entrance into marriage which all good girls used to be expected to make, are "ad nauseum" to the 20th century maiden, who not only calls a spade a spade, but knows how to wield one in her modern Eden.

An old mother is represented in one of the satirical magazines as lamenting over the scandal that has crept into her daughter's home. "It isn't my fault, that's one comfort. I brought Lucy up a good girl. Her mind was just a sheet of blank paper the day she was married," is her plea.

Somehow, the girls are learning to think for themselves on the question involved in holy matrimony, as well as on those affecting their well being in the single estate. At the Democratic convention in New York the other day, Mrs. Isetta Jewell Brown, in a straight-to-the-point speech, concluding one of the non-ness, told a story "by request." It was all about Willie's explanation of his Sunday School lesson. "God made the Garden of Eden," he said, "and then he made Adam. And by and by Adam and Eve went to sleep and then God took his pants out and made Woman."

At any rate, don't expect so many minds like a sheet of blank paper, in these days of facing facts.

and the self effacement of Ralston of Indiana.

But there are many that believe the nomination of Senator Walsh, a Catholic, and one who epitomizes one of the great issues which the Democrats will go to the country on this campaign will do much to heal the wounds of religious discord caused by the vicious fight between Klan and anti-Klan here.

Robinson and Glass both have the backing of strong and resourceful state delegations. Both have a particular appeal to the South. Both have national reputations.

A Meredith, the legions who fought with McAdoo have had the word passed to them that McAdoo would be glad to have his friends work for the law as the natural heir to the McAdoo estate.

The one ballot—the 100th—that was taken this morning after the McAdoo retirement, did not afford a fair test of the relative strength of this new big five in the convention. The delegates were exhausted, and the leaders wanted time for reflection and conference before nominating, so they kept the vote pretty much as it had been before McAdoo and Smith knocked each other out. They kept it scattered and ineffectual so that some hours of rest and some hours of reflection might intervene before the time came for choice.

The 100th Ballot
On the 100th ballot, Smith was voted at his usual approximate figure, 55½. McAdoo polled 90; Davis 50½; Meredith 75½; Walsh 52½; Robinson 46; Glass 35; Underwood, 41½; Robinson 45; while a new boom was launched for Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina.

Numerous conferences were in progress this morning among the various leaders seeking to find a man who can command the 732 votes necessary to nominate. Having just broken one deadlock at a terrific cost to party harmony and the delegates' pocketbooks, the leaders were exceedingly anxious this morning to avoid as then if possible.

Roughly speaking, the Smith-Brennan-Gaffey coalition, embracing the great industrial states of the North and middle west, looked with favor on the candidacies of Davis and Robinson, while Walsh and Meredith appealed to the McAdoo-Bryan combination.

The problem of the Vice Presidential nomination is being considered along with that of the place on the ticket in the minds of the leaders. Strenuous efforts were made last night and this morning to persuade Governor Smith to stand for the vice presidency, but when he left the Manhattan club, he was tired and weary from the fortnight's incessant battle, he was in no mood for it. Whether sleep and rest and the entreaties of his friends will change his views remains to be seen.

Not Over Yet
No quick decision is looked for in today's balloting, unless the delegates themselves, weary and in many many cases financially embarrassed, take things out of the hands of the convention leaders and make a quick job of it left to their own devices. The leaders will make a nomination today slowly and with care.

Few major political gatherings have ever furnished a more dramatic convention than was furnished in the Garden in the small hours of this morning after Governor Smith early in the evening had hurled his defiance to McAdoo from the convention platform in the shape of an invitation to mutual withdrawal from the good of the party.

Governor Smith's invitation to Mr.

McAdoo to get out of the picture, promising to do so himself when—only when—he did, left the McAdoo managers cold. They would have none of it. An hour after the Smith bombshell, David L. Rockwell and other McAdoo managers were in the midst of their hardest drive for delegates and predicting Mr. McAdoo's nomination.

Four ballots changed their minds. In those four ballots McAdoo failed utterly to increase his strength. On the contrary it sagged on every ballot with one exception. McAdoo was in danger of losing his lead to the belated New York Governor.

A hurry call was sent out for all the McAdoo field marshals and floor lieutenants. They gathered in a room across the street from the Garden where for two weeks Mr. McAdoo has watched and directed his fight for the nomination. They decided the jig was up and that it was useless to continue the fight any longer.

Mr. McAdoo dictated the letter that was read to the convention at the end of the 99th ballot. It stated that he was unwilling to court further party chaos by continuing in the race, and he therewith released his delegates to go as they pleased. They went in various directions on the next ballot but nowhere in sufficient strength to cause any undue alarm.

The Smith vote hung together for the reason it was uncertain where to go, and Brennan and his allies wanted a period of rest and conference before undertaking a decision in this respect.

This decision was in the making today in the conferences that preceded the convention's opening at noon.

McAdoo's Letter
New York, July 9 (INS).—Following is the text of the letter sent to Thomas J. Walsh, Chairman of the Democratic National Convention by Wm. G. McAdoo, in which the latter released all delegates pledged to him: "I am profoundly grateful to the splendid men and women who have with such extraordinary loyalty supported me in this unprecedented struggle for a great cause.

"The convention has been in session two weeks and appears to be unable to make a nomination under the two-thirds rule. This is an unfavorable sign, imperiling party success.

"I feel that if I should withdraw my name from the convention I should betray the trust confided in me by the people in many states, which have sent delegates here to support me.

"And yet I am unwilling to contribute to the continuation of a hopeless deadlock. Therefore, I have determined to leave my friends and supporters free to make such action as in their judgment may best serve the interests of the party.

"I have made this fight from the principles and ideals of Progressive Democracy and righteousness, and for the defeat of the reactionary and wet elements in the party which threaten to dominate it. For these principles and ideals I shall continue to fight. I hope that this convention will never yield to reaction and privilege and that the Democratic party will always hold aloft the torch which was carried to such noble heights by Woodrow Wilson.

Cordially yours,
(Signed) W. G. McADOO.

EX-SERVICE MEN ATTENTION

Ex-service men who wish to make application for their adjusted compensation or bonus are requested to call at the office of J. Mitchell Chase, Esq., in the Krystope building, where blank forms are printed and filled out for all applicants. All that is necessary for a discharge, Legation or otherwise, is to have his discharge with him.

It was intended to have these applications filled out at the Legion rooms in the County National Bank building, but Chase's office was decided upon as being more available and the work will be done there. Open every evening all week.

ON THREE BALLOTS

resolution of sympathy for the family of Senator Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana. Emmet Ralston, the Senator's son, being ill in Indianapolis. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Davis increased his total on the 102nd ballot by almost 100 votes over what was polled on the 101st. On the 103rd he polled 415 votes—higher than any candidate except McAdoo has yet reached in the convention.

William Jennings Bryan became busy on the floor during today's balloting. He was plainly disturbed by the whole proceedings.

Neither Davis nor Underwood was on his "white list" of candidates, which he gave the convention a week ago and insisted upon the choice being made from it.

The Commissioner went from delegation to delegation doing what missionary work he could, but that he was having little success was shown by the mounting Davis and Underwood totals.

Violetta Buck and Miss Cousin left on Sunday afternoon to take up their studies at Clarion State Normal after spending the Fourth with their parents.

William Jackson, Jr., of Pittsburgh, spent the Fourth with relatives here.

Don't Allow Milk To Stand

On Your Porch. Put It On Ice.

These days are the hardest possible kind of days for keeping milk. The atmospheric conditions are such that milk will sour in a comparatively few minutes if exposed to the sun and high humidity.

As soon as possible after the wagonmen have delivered milk to your home, take it in and put it on ice or where it will be cold and away from other foods which have an odor. Milk, as you know, is very susceptible to the absorption of odors and will change in a few hours from the rich sweet milk which left our coolers to something which is only fit for the sewer.

So, take in the milk as soon as you can after it is delivered and put it on ice.

Boils

THERE is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S.S.S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power.

S. S. S. builds blood-power, it builds red blood-cells. That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights pimples. It fights skin eruptions. It always wins! Mr. W. D. Schaff, 157 15th street, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S.S.S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S.S.S. that did it."

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Summer and the Wrist Watch

The search for comfortable attire during the Summer months has gradually resulted in the elimination of that hot, uncomfortable garment—the vest. The wrist watch, therefore, is no longer considered as unmanly or “flashy,” but rather a sensible, convenient and comfortable time piece.

How nice it is not to be bothered with your vest pocket watch tugging at your lapel or resting in the awkward and “out of date” trouser watch pocket. Men are beginning to realize this more and more, and consequently many a 12 size watch is given a long summer's rest.

National Buy At Home Movement

THE NATIONAL BUY-AT-HOME MOVEMENT is a great national co-operative league of loyal, home-loving people of the different communities throughout the nation, banded together for the conservation, growth and development of our smaller cities, towns and villages.

This great movement presents to the business men and citizens of each community an opportunity to join their various interests and build a permanent, buy-at-home organization which will afford immediate, personal and lasting benefits to every man, woman and child in their community.

The getting started part is simply a matter of each individual making a resolution to boost the home community at every opportunity; to do all of their buying at home and work together in everything that will help make the home town a bigger, better and more prosperous town in which to live. The adoption of such a resolution by the citizens of any community will stimulate community interest and co-operation to such an extent that there is nothing that cannot be undertaken and carried to achievement.

Your interests are identical and why should you not stand together? The common good is your good. No one person can disconnect his affairs from that of the community in which he lives.

Every responsibility of a community is a responsibility of the individual and the interests of the community can best be advanced by the united efforts and united activity of the entire community working together to develop that community to a bigger, busier and more progressive place in which to live and do business.

It is civic pride and united effort that built most of our large cities. Are the men who are responsible for the building of these cities any more progressive than the men entrusted with the building of your city or community?

Co-operation can and will do it, and the while matter hinges on your willingness to do your part.

When We All Pull Together

What wonderful results have been obtained by concerted efforts in the recent war activities. Without this unity of purpose on the part of the people of communities the mammoth Liberty Loans could not have been possible, the Red Cross campaigns would have failed; and, in fact, none of the great things that we have accomplished could have been possible with the people of the country pulling in opposite directions. This is true in just as large a sense in community work of the Buy-at-Home Movement. With each and every resident of a community pulling for the home town, a force is presented that cannot be defeated. That town will be a better place in which to live.

Why It Will Pay You To Trade In Clearfield

ROSS & WOODS

Bought the Richard Mossop Store April 4, 1904, one of the oldest business places in Clearfield, being established by R. Mossop in 1851.
R. G. Ross was formerly a member of the firm of D. Ross & Co., Woodland merchants.

F. B. Woods was Grocery Manager of the R. Mossop Store.
A complete line of General Merchandise is carried. Groceries, Wood, and Willow Ware, Enamel Ware, Tinware, Glassware, Chinaware—always good assortments of 100-piece Dinner Sets, a growing Dry Goods Department, Notions, Shoes, Rubbers, Linoleum, Congoleum and Rugs of all sizes, Trunks and Bags, Wool and Cotton Blankets.

Our aim is to have what the people want at the time they want it.
A $13,000 stock at the beginning has grown to a $50,000 stock of well selected merchandise.

We purchased the R. Mossop Store Buildings April 10, 1919.
Have over 10,000 feet of floor space in our sales and ware rooms.

We have been 20 years in this location and expect to make this our life work.
10 employees at your service to supply your wants in the various departments.

Free delivery is one of the good features of our Store. Phone us your order. We will give you prompt service.

Why not try this store of service?
We will do our best to give you reliable merchandise, courteous treatment and good values for your money.

The Town Is The Center

The modern town is not only the trading center of the community, but it is the social, educational and religious center as well. Just how far this town will advance or go backward in the scale of a town's growth depends altogether upon the people of that particular city or town. Each town is a community center. If the people of the center of things are alive to the possibilities of the community it will advance; if not, there is nothing under the sun that will keep that town alive. Another and more progressive town will spring up and with the more rapid methods of today's travel almost any distance is made short in comparison with that of the yesterday. There is greater need of civic pride and civic effort today than ever before. No town, however well entrenched, is immune to the constant reaching out of other cities and towns after the trade and the progressive spirit and element. It is in keeping with the modern idea to be ever vigilant. "Keep your lamps trimmed and burning." Not for even a moment allow an opportunity that will advance the welfare of your home town to escape you. "If it's a good thing we have it," cannot be beaten as a community slogan. This applies to the merchandising and the civic appeals of the town as well. The town that draws and secures the trade of all the people of the community is assured of success.

WHERE DO YOU STAND?

Are you standing at the cross roads of DUTY and NEGLECT? Which road are you going to take?

Why should you be doing your bit for the development and betterment of the community in which you live?

The good, loyal citizens of your home town are striving, constantly, to increase the money-making possibilities there.

Are you going to co-operate by taking an active, personal interest and do your share?

Are you going to help increase real estate and farm values of your home community and the opportunities for investment, business and employment there?

If you are, start right in today to boost the home town by doing all of your buying there. It is YOUR town and needs your financial support—your moral support, your business judgment, your advice, your ideas, your personality, your co-operation in every way. Only by taking a personal interest in the welfare of your community can you ever hope to be honored and respected there.

Chrysler Makes Sure—Then Adopts Balloons

The Brougham

It is doubtful if the public fully realizes how important it is that any car equipped with balloon tires be designed to get the greatest satisfaction out of them. The pivotal steering of the Chrysler, its extra-wide fenders, which eliminate spatter, meet the particular requirements of balloon tires. Pivotal steering means steering pins inclined to a line which passes through the center of the tire's contact with the road. These pins turn on ball thrust bearings, as easy as you steer ordinary size tires.

The Touring, $1395 The Phaeton, $1495
The Roadster, 1695 The Sedan, 1725
The Brougham, 1895 The Imperial, 1995
All prices f.o.b. Detroit; tax extra.

The Chrysler Six

Pivotal steering as through solid Chrysler

The Chrysler Six is designed for balloon tires from the ground up. It is characteristic of Chrysler engineering, however, that it has worked with the tire makers in developing special six-ply, high-speed balloon tires for standard equipment.

The six-ply, high-speed balloon tires used on the Chrysler Six are specially designed and constructed, to meet the higher speed capacity of the car and still provide the greater resiliency of ordinary balloon types.

The exhaustive tests of Chrysler engineers mean that Chrysler owners now have the advantage of full mileage service, with all the resiliency and easier riding of balloons.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan.
